

In Highland Creek Meeting House, Blue River Quarterly Meeting met June 11, 1938 at the hour of two in the afternoon.

Reports show the appointment of representatives as follows:

Clear Creek Monthly Meeting:

Clarence and Sadie Mills, Edna W. Wolf, Laura W. Smith, and Raymond Bumgarner

57th Street Meeting, —

Robt and Martha Balderson

Clement and Luella Flitcraft

Blue River Monthly Meeting, —

Nellie Baynes, and Raymond Baynes

The last four named are present, the others absent.

Full and spirited reports were made regarding the life at Blue River and Chicago. Clear Creek reports encouraging help given them by Foster and Margaretta Heacock. Enthusiasm for the American Friends Service Committee Meeting in Chicago was reflected in both written and oral reports.

Reading of the Minutes was followed by reports of Committees. The committee on clerks reported a continuance of present incumbents. No dissent was voiced and the report was passed as approved.

Clement B Flitcraft reported a balance of $155.78 in the Treasury.

To audit the Treasurer's report and to nominate a treasurer, the following committee is named: Helen Brooks, Luella Flitcraft, Martha R. Mills, Beason Baynes.

Besides finding books correct, the committee names Clement B Flitcraft for treasurer. Approval is given.

To represent the Quarterly Meeting at Yearly Meeting, the following are appointed Millicent Baynes, Fred Baynes, Grace Benjamin, Alice Flitcraft, Edna Wolf, Albert T. Mills, Clement B. Flitcraft.

The Eleventh Query on Civil Relations was read as well as the suggested Disciplinary readings thereon.

The topic programmed for discussion is: American Friends Service, and was lead by Ortis Baynes and Clement Flitcraft. Others followed.

In harmony and good spirit the business is finished and the meeting concluded at 4:30

Albert T. Mills, Clerk

Leafa Baynes, Asst. Clk.

In the opening meeting John Hay was referred to, a statesman born in Salem and whose birthday — the 100th — is to be celebrated on a national scale in October.

Saturday night a party was held at Elwood and Helen Brooks home. Dinner was eaten on the Grounds Sunday. Sunday afternoon the orthodox minister spoke, thus there is evidence of good will and fellowship between the two groups of Friends in the Salem neighborhood.
