

The Blue River Quarterly Meeting of Friends
February 3, 1951—International House, Chicago

The clerk, Albert Mills, opened the meeting by asking for a temporary recording clerk as the recording clerk from 57th Street Meeting was not present. Carolyn Wills was named to fill the vacancy.

The State of the Society of the Clear Creek Meeting had not been read at the Meeting of Ministry and Counsel. This was read by the clerk. A letter from Edward Wood of the St. Louis Meeting expressing regrets that no one from the meeting could be present was read also.

The delegates answering the roll call were:

Martha Mills—Clear Creek

Charles Harker—Peoria

Agnes Hole—Madison

Achim Leppman, Harold and Alice Flitcraft, Elizabeth Smith, Melly

Mahoney—57th Street

Anna Alexa, Luella Flitcraft, Carolyn Wills—Oak Park

The purpose and concerns of the Wyck Group of Philadelphia were given by Weldon Reynolds: The members of this group are intent on meeting with other Quakers in prayer and meditation to discern the nature of God and man, and to be atuned to the social implications resulting from the promptings of the spirit. There is to be a meeting in Evanston April 21" and 22".

The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were read. Harold Flitcraft made the correction that Charles Harker was in the panel discussion and not he.

The clerk then asked the visitors to introduce themselves. Luella Flitcraft presented Charles Blackman of Muskegon, and Marge and Donald Klaver of New York presented themselves.

Carolyn Wills read her report of the January Meeting of the A. F. S. C. held in Philadelphia. Robert Wilson added a bit to it.

The Clothing Committee had sent 2200 pounds before Christmas to Philadelphia.

For the trustees of funds, Albert Mills reported that $30 had been turned over to the Mid-West Office of the AFSC.
